President's Message

By Dr. Julia Mikell, SCDA President

Dear SCDA Members,

"When will I see you again?" Do you know this 1973 song by The Three Degrees? As this year continues to be weighed down with concerns of viruses, this song keeps running through my mind. I miss being with my friends and colleagues at study clubs and dental association meetings.

As President of SCDA, I will join the delegation who represents South Carolina as part of the 16th Trustee district at the ADA national meeting every fall. This year I will meet with my fellow delegates from all 50 states via Zoom. No one could have imagined twelve months ago how quickly we would adapt to a virtual reality. Over the last couple years, the ADA has discussed switching some of the council and committee meetings from in person to phone conferences in order to reduce expenses. The idea met with resistance from the participants, not because they loved getting away from their home and family, but because they felt a connection and the energy with the people at the meeting. The resistance was based on the belief that the connection, camaraderie, and sense of community and the resulting energy was part of the equation to meaningful results. By now most of us have Zoomed, or at least Facetimed. Let's face it, a phone call or a Zoom meeting doesn't take the place of in-person interaction.

So, while I am receiving training for the virtual process for the ADA House of Delegates (HOD) 2020 this month, I am working with your SCDA staff and SCDA Board to design the virtual SCDA HOD for Friday, December 4, 2020 beginning at 9 a.m. Due to space restrictions hotels have for meeting rooms, getting everyone together in the same room for our HOD was going to be difficult. Luckily SCDA has had multiple opportunities to get experience in the virtual world. Maie Burke, our nationally recognized membership coordinator, facilitated the virtual platform for our fall district meetings. Those fall meetings enabled us to take care of district business and provide excellent continuing education. Maie also managed the Zoom platform for the 2-hour continuing education program by Dr. Jim Curtis that fulfilled the South Carolina Opioid CE requirement.

The SCDA HOD will require active participation and engagement of our delegates and alternates. Familiarity with your device and the Zoom platform will be a key to success. I highly encourage you to practice on Zoom with friends or family members to get comfortable with the Zoom platform. There are a few functions that take a minute to learn, specifically the "chat room" and "raise your hand". Maie and the SCDA staff have plenty of experience. I am hoping that we will have record high attendance, maybe one of the few advantages of having a virtual HOD. Must wear a shirt, but no mask or shoes required!

In other news, the SCDA Annual Session 2021 committee is working on a plan to include a virtual option for April 2021 in Charleston, SC. Hopefully you received and responded to an email survey asking your opinion about an in-person versus a "hybrid" meeting. The term hybrid refers to a meeting with in-person attendance and speakers, but also a recorded version that can be watched at home at the viewers convenience. The challenge of anticipating the conditions for next spring create a level of uncertainty on how to plan a meeting. What I am certain of is that we are looking forward to being together again, the old-fashioned way. However, if the conditions next spring necessitate some or all of us looking for a virtual option, we want to be able to provide that.

As we head into the Thanksgiving holiday, I wish you, your friends and family, a thankful heart and togetherness in whatever form that may be. And hopefully we'll be able to see each other unmasked and in person before too long.

Warmest regards,
Julia Mikell

ADA's ADAPT Program Extended Nationwide

By Phil Latham, SCDA Executive Director

ADA Practice Transitions (ADAPT), a service offered by the American Dental Association (ADA), makes the process of buying, selling, or joining a dental practice more predictable and successful. However, ADAPT isn't just another listing service. Instead, it connects dentists who share a similar practice approach – which leads to more successful transitions and careers.

After a successful eight-state pilot, the program will be expanding nationally. That means that no matter where you want to practice, ADAPT can help you find the perfect fit. Answer three quick questions to become an ADAPT Insider, receive early access to create your profile — AND be entered to win a $100 Amazon gift card.

ADAPT Matches Like-minded Buyers and Sellers

ADAPT Advisors help practice owners find the right associate or buyer who will carry on their legacy. ADAPT also helps dentists purchase practices or find associateships where they can thrive.

How ADAPT Works

ADAPT can help you sell, buy, or join a practice in three steps.

1. Create Your Online Profile - Build and submit your profile to your ADA advisor.
2. Work With Your ADA Advisor - Receive matches for review, knowing you are supported every step of the way.
3. Achieve Transition Success - Match with the dentist or practice that aligns best with your personal and professional goals.

Letter to the Editor: Why I Volunteer

By Dr. Bill Sasser

I'm sure that most of us are familiar with the "starfish story." It's about a young boy on the beach tossing starfish into the ocean after they were stranded by a receding tide. There were a large number and the boy was only able to return them one at a time. When approached by someone who inquired about the futility of the effort, the boy's response was insightful: "I can't save them all, but at least I'm making a difference for some of them, one at a time."

While the story is an old one, I feel that it aptly describes our situation in dentistry. South Carolina is fortunate to have an adequate supply of dentists in most areas of the state. However, there is still a problem with access to care in low income communities. It's estimated that 2/3 of people with full time employment have some form of third party payer, but what about the other 1/3?

For years I believed individuals didn't seek dental care due to a lack of interest in or priority of dental health. This changed almost 30 years ago with the opening of the first charity clinic in Charleston. I was among a number of private practice dentists who gained their first volunteer experience serving patients at that clinic. Shortly afterwards I went on my first international service trip and my eyes were really opened as our team was confronted with huge crowds seeking care. Since those early days, time spent volunteering locally, overseas, and at MUSC has truly been the most rewarding part of my career.

Bottom line; S.C. has lots of dentists, but still many individuals live with unmet needs. Why? The answer is simple. All too frequently people can't afford the cost of care either as a result of low income jobs, personal choices, or lack of education as to the importance of dental health.

My first step in trying to make a difference came with an awareness of the problem. This led to reluctantly volunteering a few hours each month at a local charity clinic. Next was overcoming my personal hesitation to take off time and leave my comfort zone to participate on an overseas mission trip. One trip led to another, students were engaged, and a non-profit was established. Since that halting beginning, I have served in 35 different countries, treated thousands of patients, and been privileged to introduce many to the joy of volunteer service.

There are a myriad of ways to give-back. For me, the most worthwhile is to provide dentistry for those who need care, even when they don't have the money to afford what many of us take for granted. Since I'm not traveling overseas during the pandemic, I've been working to expand dental services to one of the poor neighborhoods in our town. Limited emergency care meets certain needs, but virtually every patient who we see could benefit from dental education as well as preventive and restorative services.

An image that comes to mind to describe the current need for dental care in our community is that of a swimming pool. Comprehensive care is readily available to those individuals in the shallow water who have insurance and money. Unfortunately, many patients are struggling in the deep end with limited access due to a lack of funds. What is our responsibility as successful dentists?

While volunteering is only part of the solution to the problem, I can personally testify that my life has been enriched as I have volunteered. There's a genuine sense of gratification as I have integrated service into my life. Yes, it was initially challenging to work outside my comfort zone, but I have grown through the process and have no regrets for taking that first step.

We live in a day in time when there's a perception that the government or someone else should do something to address the problems in society. What about us? Can we as dentists do small things in our communities to address the needs of the poor? Can you volunteer a few hours each month to help? Can you start a charity clinic in your town if there's not one? Can you contribute financially to support those facilities that are functioning? This won't solve all of the needs around us, but it will help to save a few more "starfish".

Your colleague,
Bill

e-Prescribing: It's Time for Action

By Robert McDermott, President/CEO, iCoreConnect an SCDA Endorsed Company

It's time to choose your e-Prescribing software and comply with the Electronic Prescriptions for Controlled Substances (EPCS) law. You'll improve patient care and protect your practice as soon as you begin e-Prescribing. Take this opportunity to e-Prescribe ALL medications to quickly take care of business.

Do you ever prescribe drugs like Dilaudid, Tramadol or Tylenol 3? These medications join other controlled substances impacted by the new Electronic Prescribing for Controlled Substances (EPCS) law taking effect on January 1st. The mandate requires electronic prescriptions for any controlled substance that contains an opioid in the Schedule II-V federal drug classification. Regardless of how many prescriptions you write a month for controlled substances, you're still required to e-Prescribe.

e-Prescribing is more secure than written prescriptions.

EPCS requires a one-time identity proofing process by a Credential Service Provider (CSP). Identity Proofing prevents someone from impersonating you to access your computer system and illegally write scripts for controlled substances. As the doctor whose name and license are attached to an EPCS account, this is critical to protecting you from anyone attempting to forge a prescription.

Another unique element to e-Prescribing is a multi-factor (two or more) user authentication required each time you prescribe a controlled substance. These two steps are quick and easy, and simply add another layer of protection for all involved.

e-Prescribing adds benefits to your patients and your practice workflow.

Compliance with the law is just one benefit of e-Prescribing. e-Prescribing is the most effective prescription writing system for protection, error reduction and adherence. Studies by AJMC have shown e-Prescribing may:

- help reduce medication errors and adverse drug events
- improve formulary adherence by prescribers
- improve patient adherence to prescription medications, therefore improving quality of care and reducing healthcare costs¹

Speeding up your workflow is also key, so look for the following functions in an e-Prescribing software and make sure they are included in the flat subscription rate. Benefits to your practice are numerous and may include the flexibility to:

- Prescribe on Your Office Computers, Laptop, Tablet or Phone. A truly comprehensive cloud e-Prescribing solution allows you to e-Prescribe from desktops and laptops at no additional cost, from any location, any time
- Integrate with Your Practice Management System. With true integration, your practice management system populates your patient's information directly into your e-Prescribing software, eliminating duplicate work
- Access the SCDA PMP with a Single-Click. The national average duration to access a state PMP website is more than four minutes and 50 clicks. However, a comprehensive e-Prescribing cloud software that is properly integrated with your practice management system can reduce this to one or two clicks

Even if your practice management system already has an e-Prescribing function, EPCS is different from traditional e-Prescribing functionality. It's time to get your system in place.

SCDA Member Benefits Group Endorsed Partner iCoreConnect is a cloud-based, software company focused on increasing profit and speeding up workflow in dentistry. SCDA members receive special discount pricing on iCoreConnect's services, including iCoreRx e-Prescribing software with optional EPCS and PMP add-ons. Thank You Note for the SCDA Foundation

Dear SCDA Foundation Team,

I just wanted to write to say an enormous thank you for awarding me one of this year's scholarships. In fact, "thank you" hardly seems to fully convey so grateful my wife and I are for this. We just got married this July (yes, in the middle of covid!), and we are working hard to handle our finances wisely. This scholarship is a complete gift and provision for us as we set out on our marriage adventure together. In fact, as we are trying to live exclusively off of my wife's teacher salary, we could not make the numbers work in a way to pay for health insurance. Two days later, I got the news of this scholarship, and the award amount perfectly balances our books so that we can cover health insurance this year. If that is not provision, I don't know what is.

As you get the opportunity, please extend my personal thanks to every one of the SCDA members and donors. We are still in awe at this scholarship and could not be more grateful. Thank you.

Most Sincerely,
Jansen (and McKenzie) Nash

Over the past five years, the ADA's Medicaid Provider Advisory Committee has presented a version of Being a Medicaid Provider in an Era of Accountability in over 20 states, as well as numerous regional and national gatherings. Though the foundational elements remain the same, our speakers have brought in COVID relevant information, as well as current challenges faced by our constituents. Currently, both pediatric and general dentists who treat children and special needs individuals in hospital operating rooms and surgical centers are finding that they are slowly, but surely being pushed aside...in favor of more lucrative procedures.

In light of COVID, there is an increase in the number of people eligible for Medicaid, but a decline in the number of providers willing to see this population. At the same time, state Medicaid budgets are being scrutinized and questioned. Now is the time for this course to be brought forward.
